"WREATH OF VIRGINIA BAY-ARE INSTANTLY KILLED LEAVES."-We are indeed glad to announce the forthcoming of the much desired edition of the poems of James Barron Hope, "Wreath of Virginia Bay-Leaves," arranged and revised by his daughter, Mrs. Janey Hope Marr. It has seemed strange in the renaiss-ance of southern literature that greater prominence has not been given to the name and fame of the Virginia poet, who has been so signally honored by his State and country.

The laureste of Washington and Lee. The laureste of Washington and Lee, at the unveiling of the great monuments to these great Virginians; the poet selected by Congress for the centennial ode at Yorktown, his noble measures were sung to the wide world, not in a corner, and their echoes should surely not be left to die, until Virginia's bay leaves have all fallen into the sear and vellow. From Impastown to Apportunity and yellow. From Jamestown to Appo mattox this brave singer has thrown the laurels of his verse around "arms and the man," the beloved old mother State, and her unrivalled sons; and so may ever be-

They'll not forget the bard who sang his

With dying breath, but deathless melody. Janey Hope Marr has inherited much of the delicate perception of beauty, and gift of expression, which belonged to her father, together with his undying love of letters. Her name is not unknown already to literature, and would that it might become, as it deserves, a household word around all tender firesides, and among all cultured homes! And never has she done better work than this loving and discriminating tribute of loyal heart and brain -Richmond Times.

DEATH OF AN AGED LADY .- Mrs. Kitty Wingfield, relict of Mr. Thomas Wingfield, died Sunday at the residence of her son died Sunday at the residence of her som about six miles from Charlottesville, at the advanced age of S7 years For over sixty years she had been a member of the Baptist Church. She possessed many charming trairs of character. She leaves seven children—Messrs. C. H. and B. T. Wingfield, of Charlottesville, and Mrs. William Thacker, Mrs. R. M. Hammer, Mrs. L. E. Wingfield, James J. Wingfield, and Miss M. V. Wingfield, of Albemarle country. Twenty-four grandchildren and twelve great-grandchildren also survive her.

"Yield Not to Misfortune."

I was afflicted with catarrh last autumn.

During the month of October I could neither taste or smell and could hear but little. Ely's Cream Balm cured it.—Marcus Geo. Shautz, Rshway, N. J. I suffered from catarrh of the worst kind over since a boy, and I never hoped for cure, but Ely's Cream Balm seems to do even that. Many acquaintances have used it with excellent results.—Oscar Ostrum, 45 Warren Ave.; Chicago, Ill. Cream Balm is agreeable.
